DID YOU KNOW

That Autism Edmonton is not funded by government contracts?

Autism Edmonton is dedicated to serving autistic individuals throughout their entire lives, along with their invaluable support networks, including parents, caregivers, siblings, and service providers. As a non-profit organization, we do not generate revenue; rather, we depend on the generosity of private and corporate donations, sponsorships, and grants to deliver our vital services. Now, more than ever, we rely on the support of our community to sustain and expand these essential services for the entire autism support ecosystem. Your contribution can make a lasting difference in the lives of those we serve.

The Autism Community Needs Your Support

Supporting Autism Edmonton, an organization without government contracts, is paramount in championing inclusivity and providing vital services to autistic individuals. Your support directly fuels the continuation and expansion of essential programs, bridging gaps in resources that might otherwise be overlooked. By backing Autism Edmonton, you ensure that individuals receive the care and support necessary for their well-being and development. Your support fosters a sense of community and understanding, amplifying awareness of autism-related challenges and promoting a more inclusive society. Together, let's stand behind Autism Edmonton and empower its mission to create a brighter future for all autistic individuals.

Help support us as we continue to serve the autism community.
